

China Standards Notes

April 3, 2009

- China National Institute of Standardization has launched an energy saving program that includes 16 new/modified national energy efficiency standards and six energy efficiency labeling requirements. <http://www.cait.cn/cait/cprz/zxxw/147352.shtml>
- A national standard for “Administrative Guidelines for Safe Consumer Product Manufacturing” has been approved. http://www.cnis.org.cn/xwdt/zhxw/kyxw/200903/t20090330_4763.shtml
- China Special Equipment Institute is seeking comments for the “Special Ground Use Vehicle Catalog”. Feedback is due before April 5th. <http://www.csei.org.cn/contentNews.asp?id=6964&cid=83>
- Beijing plans to build an effective drug safety system for market access over the next three to five years. Pharmacies found selling counterfeit drugs would face closure and license revocation. <http://chinagb.org/Article/news/hot/200904/46701.htm>
1
- General Administration of Quality Supervision, Inspection and Quarantine (AQSIQ) released a list of 1065 companies that have lost their industrial manufacturing license. http://www.aqsiq.gov.cn/zwgk/jlgg/zjgg/2009/200903/t20090329_110005.htm

NOTE: sign up for notifications at www.nist.gov/notifyus
Please go to www.trade.gov/standards for previous Standards Notes.